rooms, adding recessed lights in the family room that flood down across the built-ins to give them a clean, spacious aura. "There's just so much you can do with lighting," she says.

Not surprisingly, Wedderburn also plays with different types of lighting to help set a calm tone throughout her home and those of her clients. Noting that many of her family members are in the medical profession, she concludes, "If I can create a situation where my clients can feel relaxed in their own home, then I think I am doing something really good for people, too." ❖
